

HavsVidden's history began with a love. The retired bank director of Ålandsbanken, Thorvald Eriksson, fell in love with the wild nature and built himself a summer cottage up in the mountain in Geta.

Soon the thoughts were born on creating a recreation and wellness centre on the cliffs by the sea. More land was bought in and in the summer of 1990 HavsVidden was opened for the first time! However, this activity went rather quickly bankrupt and in the late 90s and early 2000s the business ran on a rather small scale out here.

In 2006, the Swedish entrepreneur came to Åland and Geta. He also fell in love with nature at HavsVidden, the red cliffs and the closeness to the sea. HavsVidden changed owners and today, the 58 hectares of land, the properties and the entire hotel and restaurant business are owned by HavsVidden AB, with a group of Swedish entrepreneurs and investors in the background. HavsVidden has bit by bit developed into a resort consisting of a hotel, restaurant, bar, conferences, swimming pool and saunas, outdoor areas, cliff houses and more.
